

Are 'Forever Chemicals' (PFAS) in your non-stick pans and fire/ stain retardant furnishings really forever?

Are they a problem?

Come and join us for an informal chat over a pint/glass of wine with our special guest facilitator

Julia Sussams

Head Chemicals Scientist, Chemicals Division
DEFRA

Please sign in on the link so we can plan the activities for the evening.

Get down to your local
PEOPLE, PLANET, PINT

The Yeoman, Ashford Road

Wednesday 28th January

7pm

Krystal

A promotional poster for an event titled "PEOPLE, PLANET, PINT". The poster has a blue background. At the top right is the "Smurfit" logo. Below it, the text "Get down to your local" is in a light blue font. The main title "PEOPLE, PLANET, PINT" is in large white letters. Below the title are three white rounded rectangular boxes: the first contains a location pin icon and "The Yeoman, Ashford Road"; the second contains a calendar icon and "Wednesday 28th January"; the third contains a clock icon and "7pm". On the right side of the poster is a cartoon character of a beer glass with a face, arms, and legs, wearing a white shirt and pointing. At the bottom left is the "Krystal" logo, which includes a diamond icon and the word "Krystal".

